President Lloyd's Page

Dear Friends:

The War is over! What a glorious announcement that was! In reality of course it came in two parts, both since my last message on this page. More people in the world had striven and prayed for this than for any other event in history, and it has come to pass! May God receive from all Maryville College men and women the gratitude due to Him, and may He give us also faith and courage for the staggering responsibilities which the indescribable destruction of war and the unprecedented demands of peace lay upon nations, and individuals, and institutions.

Our Service Flags

Our thoughts turn toward those whom the war put into military service; those who are coming back now and those who will not come back in the flesh. For many months we have had two large service flags in the College Chapel. Just now they are at the shop in Knoxville where stars are sewed onto flags. When they are hung again they will carry 1185 stars for Maryville College service men and women, 1153 of them blue, and 32 gold. There will be a few more (we trust they will be blue only) because students are still being called up and we continue to hear of some who had not been reported, but the roll must be nearly complete. There was a long roll in World War I, the Maryville College flags then bearing 637 blue and 21 gold stars. Maryville's part in that conflict was large; but our participation in this one has been much more extensive both in numbers and in time, and the tasks now ahead of us are correspondingly greater. We are grateful that the gold stars are proportionately fewer, perhaps the difference being due to the influenza epidemic of 1918.

Returning Veterans

Among the ten to twelve million veterans who are being separated gradually from the armed forces, there are a million or so expected to take advantage of the training financed under the "G. I. Bill." There may be a half million in the colleges and universities for longer or shorter periods. So far the universities with their varied vocational and semi-vocational offerings are drawing most of these. Perhaps they will continue to do so. But all colleges will have some. There are only a few at Maryville so far. This is due in part to the fact that College opened August 28, just fourteen days after Japan agreed to surrender and still five days before the official V-J Day. The return of veterans was not yet rapid. We expect some more veterans after Christmas; a good many are writing or visiting the campus. The return will be gradual and may never be very large at separate liberal arts colleges, but Maryville has a great deal to offer. I hope Alumni will counsel veterans concerning Maryville. Housing for married veterans promises to be a major problem. Finding living quarters in the town of Maryville is still as difficult as finding them in other war industry communities. We are exploring the possibilities of securing demountable houses now on government installations.

Faculty Veterans

Dr. Frank D. McClelland, Dean of Students, is back at the College after a leave of absence in military service. Rev. Raymond J. Dollenmayer, Associate Professor of Bible and Religious Education, is reported on his way back. Dean McClelland was a Major in the Marine Corps and Mr. Dollenmayer was a Chaplain with the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the Navy. Both men have been serving in the Pacific. They have a special place among the veterans whom we are happy to welcome back. Their coming makes the end of the war seem more certain, and the rebuilding of our faculty to full strength more definite.

The Progress of the Year

The number of girls who applied for entrance this fall was larger than for a number of years. We decided that since boys would not be entering in numbers for some time to come, we would send the boys to smaller Memorial and use larger Carnegie for girls. Then suddenly came Japan's surrender and the likelihood that veterans would begin their return before spring. So we halted the admission of girls after assigning 90 to Carnegie. For the first semester we have 391 girls and 66 boys in College, a total of 457, which is approximately sixty per cent of the number in the fall of 1940. We might have taken more girls but prefer to build up the total by boys as they return from military service and are permitted to enter from high schools. We are not yet unduly concerned about numbers for they will gradually climb to normal.*

The true index to progress is in the spirit and advancement of those who compose the college community, and by that measure this is a year of progress. The College has weathered the great depression and the great war free of indebtedness and with its financial condition sound. The spiritual tone is good and wholesome.

And so I send my greetings to all Maryville Alumni on this fifteenth anniversary of assuming the responsibilities of the President's office. My family and I arrived on the campus to make our home and begin our work on November 29, 1930. May God lead us all into the future.

Sincerely yours,

Ralph Waldo Lloyd

President.

FRED H. HOPE

Dear Fellow Alumni:

I know we are all anxious to see every copy of The Alumni Magazine and eagerly reach for it and scan it for news from friends scattered over the world. Many times my heart has been gladdened by a smiling, friendly face, an outstretched hand, and this: "I am from Maryville." There are many in this country and over the world that are proud to say, "I am from Maryville." It is a great privilege to be able to say that. It is, also, a privilege to have the opportunity of supporting our Alumni Association, so let us not forget our dues. We must keep up our Magazine that brings us the news of our many college friends scattered over the world.

CHARLES F. WEBB

We now have another opportunity that is more than worth while. There is hardly a limit to the extent we will go to honor the leaders of war. However, some of our greatest achievements and some of the greatest sacrifices have been made in the time of peace, and in a quiet way that seldom attracts the attention of the world. It is proper that we honor those that have done outstanding service for their country in time of war; but we should not overlook those that have done great work in time of peace. Maryville College has an outstanding man, one whose work ranks high indeed. Dr. Samuel T. Wilson ranks among the great men of his time along educational lines. Still greater was his interest in every student under his care. The thousands of men and women throughout the country that had the privilege of being under his care, hold for him only the kindest feeling and the greatest respect. Let us now do the proper thing and rush our contributions for the Samuel T. Wilson Memorial. This will not only honor a great man but will be a great help to the students of Maryville in the future.

WINIFRED L. PAINTER

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the College and Alumni for the thousands of dollars sent out to Africa for the work there. When I went out to begin that work there was no fund for starting a school. For the first few years it was hard sledding. For some years the College YMCA gave money to keep a native minister at work in China. Later this fund was taken over by the College and it was directed toward the work in Africa. It was, indeed, a God-send. Some of this money was used for the running expenses of the Frank James Industrial School, but most of it has been used for the erection of permanent buildings.

The first building to be erected was a brick and cement chapel, which we named The Maryville Chapel. It has an assembly room and two classrooms. The second building erected from this fund was a two-story cement structure and houses the tailor shop. The building is twenty-four by sixty feet, and is entirely termite proof. This prevents serious loss of cloth and finished clothing by the termites. The third building is for administration and storeroom space, and is termite proof also.

The Industrial School is not now the most needy institution in the Mission. Several years ago a school for the children of missionaries was started. It was a wonderful help in making it possible for the missionary family to stay in the field until the children are ready for high school. Before the school was started, when the children were ready for school the mother had to remain in the homeland, and, in some cases, the entire family was lost to the Mission.

When the war came families of three small missions back of us could not return home and the children were not able to go to school. Our school took in seven of these children. The need for enlargement of the dormitory was imperative. I assigned to this work $3000.00 of the money which Maryville College sent to me. This has enabled the workers of the smaller missions to remain in the field and give their children the advantage of school. This last term there were eight nations represented in the school.

Sincerely yours,

FRED H. HOPE, '06*

THE 1945 COMMENCEMENT

Although half of a year has passed since Commencement last May 21, it is thought that alumni at a distance will still be interested in a report of the events.

On Friday morning, May 11, President and Mrs. Lloyd had the Senior Breakfast at their home; this was being resumed after several years in which it was not held. The Senior Class Chapel was on Wednesday, May 16. This is the occasion on which senior caps and gowns first appear each year. The president of the senior class, Robert Seel, of Bradenton, Florida and Colombia, South America, presided; James Witherspoon of Rio, Illinois, read the Scripture lesson, Agnes Peterson of Knoxville offered the morning prayer, Shirley Scott of Altoona, Pa., gave a reading taken from "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," and Marcia Keirn of Alcoa sang "When You're Away" and "Someday"; Betsy Burleigh, of Port Blakely, Wash., was organist. Then followed the ceremony in which the senior class turned over its seats to the juniors, with the newly elected president of the Class of 1946, Louise Corbett, responding.

The next Commencement events were on Friday. At the morning chapel service various prizes were distributed by Coach Honaker. In the evening the traditional Commencement Play was resumed after an omission of two years. This time there were three one-act plays, "Overtones," "A Happy Journey," and "The Hour Glass." Mrs. West as usual gave interesting and effective productions.

Alumni Day was Saturday and began with a program of music and drama at the morning chapel. In the afternoon President and Mrs. Lloyd held their annual reception. The Alumni Dinner in Pearsons Hall was a real success. The address was given by Mr. Commodore B. Fisher, '16, who had recently returned from Iran where he had been a missionary for twenty years. Incidentally he is now on the Maryville College faculty. A notable reunion was that of the Fifty-Year Class. In the business session of the Alumni Association reports of the Executive Secretary and other officers were made and officers for 1945-1946 were elected. Fred H. Hope, '06, was elected president. Following the Dinner a band and orchestra concert was given in front of Thaw Hall. It turned out to be pretty cold for May but a sizable group enjoyed the concert nevertheless.

At the Baccalaureate Service on Sunday morning Chaplain Lester E. Bond, '15, Rev. Thomas A. Graham, pastor of the New Providence Church which joined our service as the custom is, and Rev. George W. Hanners, father of one of the seniors, took part. President Lloyd's sermon was on the subject, "The Things That Were Heard," the text being from Heb. 2:1—"Therefore, we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things that were heard, lest haply we drift away from them." The Senior Music Hour at four and the Vesper Service at seven completed the day's program. The Vesper preacher was Rev. Dr. Edward N. Caldwell, whose daughter was a member of the graduating class.

FOUNDERS' AND HOMECOMING DAY

The program of Founders' and Homecoming Day, which was observed on October 27, appears on the inside of the front cover of this issue of the Alumni Magazine. Letters went out to all alumni and a considerable number were present.

JUSTICE RUTLEDGE

At the Founders' Day Service in the Chapel Justice Wiley Blount Rutledge of the Supreme Court of the United States delivered a significant address on the subject, "Who Has Won the War?" The College conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

As stated in the citation, Wiley Rutledge attended Maryville College five years, two in the Preparatory Department and three in the College, and then attended the University of Wisconsin for one year receiving there his bachelor's degree. In his remarks on Founders' Day he said, "I am glad to return to Maryville College, which I have always considered my real alma mater, to receive at long last my degree."

Various representatives of the legal profession were guests at both the Founders' Day service and the Homecoming barbeque. Included among them were the Knox County and Blount County Bar Associations, Judge George C. Taylor of the U. S. District Court, Judge Xenophon Y. Hicks of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Attorney General Roy H. Beeler, '06, of the State of Tennessee, and others.

The Homecoming arrangements were in charge of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association with Charles F. Webb, '27, Vice President, presiding and Mary Gamble, '33, chairman of the committee, and James R. Smith, '35, Executive Secretary, coordinating the plans. The weather was ideal, clear, and mild, and the trees were in gorgeous color.

The presence and address of Wiley Rutledge received wide publicity not only in the Maryville and Knoxville papers but also in Associated Press dispatches. He arrived early Saturday morning and returned to Washington Sunday evening, being a guest of President and Mrs. Lloyd while in Maryville. A group of fellow students of college days met for breakfast Saturday. There was a trip into the Smoky Mountains National Park Saturday afternoon, and he attended church with the Lloyds on Sunday morning. Between other events there was a short student forum sponsored by the YWCA, YMCA, and International Relations Club at which Justice Rutledge answered questions, off the record, about current national and international affairs.

The Homecoming program was concluded Saturday night with a concert by the Maryville College Little Symphony Orchestra.

DR. STEIN

The 70th series of the February Meetings will be held from February 7 to 15. The preacher will be the Rev. Luther E. Stein, D.D., Secretary of the Division of Church Relations, Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, Philadelphia, Pa.

The College is especially grateful to Dr. Stein for undertaking this important ministry because it was not until early in January that the call was extended to him. Dr. Clifford E. Barbour, of Knoxville, Tennessee, had planned to render this service but an accident in which his hip was broken made it necessary to find another leader. An urgent call went to Dr. Stein and he generously put aside other responsibilities and accepted the task. The Alumni Magazine extends sincere sympathy to Dr. Barbour. All who had the privilege of being present in 1938 or in 1942 when he was the leader of the Meetings realize what a great contribution he makes in such leadership and would have made again this year.

The College is fortunate in securing so strong a man to take his place. Dr. Stein lived in the Middle West where he graduated from Hastings College, Nebraska; went to the Pacific Coast to San Francisco Theological Seminary; served as a pastor in San Francisco, Berkeley, and Glendale at Los Angeles; and went East to assume his present important duties with the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education in 1942. He is a man of contagious Christian personality and an effective preacher to young and old alike.

The 1946 February Meetings will be the twenty-fourth series for Dr. Stringham as song leader. This means that more than five college generations have sat and stood and sung under his leadership. His contribution to the influence of the Meetings is cause for gratitude by all Maryville alumni.

Maryville College people everywhere are asked to keep the February dates in mind and to pray for leaders, faculty, and students, that God may do a great spiritual work on the old campus in these first post-war Meetings.

Dr. Verton M. Queener, '24, Professor of History and Chairman of the Division of Social Sciences, who has been on leave of absence in Government war work at Washington since the summer of 1943, will return to his duties at the College next fall.

Fred H. Hope, '06, President of the Alumni Association, died in Orlando, Florida, on January 4, 1946, and was buried beside his wife, in Winona Lake, Indiana, on January 9.

This issue of the Alumni Magazine, long delayed by congested schedules, carries his message written in the fall as President of the Maryville College Alumni Association. He came to Maryville in October for the Homecoming and Founder's Day, but after staying overnight became so ill that he was forced to leave. He had been in failing health for some months. In November he returned for the Directors' meeting and the Fred Hope Drive, giving two impressive addresses at the College and one in town. All were concerned by his loss of fifty pounds in weight and his struggle against an illness which he thought was wholly arthritis. One of the largest sums ever subscribed to the Fred Hope Fund ($1,135) resulted from his visit even though the student body is smaller than normal, and he was happy over that.

He went from Maryville to Orlando and within a few days was seriously ill in the hospital. He was told he had cancer and he wrote his friends calmly that he was nearing the end, which did come soon.

The name of Fred Hope has been well known on the Maryville campus since he entered as a student in the Preparatory Department in 1897. He was a vigorous personality as a student and one year proposed and carried through a campaign on the campus to raise money for foreign missions. The plan became an annual one and when he went to Africa as a missionary in 1907, it became the Fred Hope Drive for raising a Fred Hope Fund to be sent to him each year for such use as he desired to make of it. This brought Fred Hope's name and life and work before the student body and faculty every year. He has done many things with the money. The last letter he wrote to the College before his death was to arrange for sending one thousand dollars to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions to help complete a dormitory at the Hope School for Missionary Children at Elat. The College will continue to raise a Fred Hope Fund each year to be used for foreign missions.

Fred Hope graduated at Maryville College in 1906, in the first class to receive diplomas in Voorhees Chapel, married Lou F. Johnston of Montgomery, Ohio, also a member of the Class of 1906, went with her in 1907 to West Africa, then "known as the white man's graveyard" (to use his words), buried his wife there in 1908, organized and developed the Frank James Industrial School in Elat, West Africa, and continued as its head until his retirement last winter. In time he married Roberta Brown, who spent most of his missionary years with him in Africa. She died of cancer while in the United States on furlough in 1942. He started back to Africa on a freighter in July 1942 and arrived in October. There are five daughters, four of whom attended Maryville College: Arta Grace, '34 (Mrs. Randolph Shields), Elizabeth, ex-'36, Esther (Mrs. Max Powers), Roberta, '42, and Winifred, '43. Elizabeth is a missionary in Africa, now on furlough in this country.

In 1926, twenty years after his graduation, Fred Hope was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by his Alma Mater. Ten years later he was elected a Director of the College and at the time of his death was President of the Alumni Association.

He was officially retired when he reached the age of seventy on March 9, 1945. The arrangements were for him to continue in Africa until the fall of 1945, but illness forced him to come home even ahead of retirement and he arrived in this country February 16, 1945. He sold his home in Winona Lake where he had spent his furloughs and bought a home in Orlando, Florida, next door to that of Dr. H. L. Weber, who had been a fellow missionary and his physician during all his years in Africa. He and his sister had just moved in when his illness became critical. Rev. Dr. Robert H. McCaslin, '03, conducted the funeral services in Orlando, and Mr. T. N. Brown, Ex. '20, of Lima, Ohio, represented the College at the services at Winona Lake.

Fred Hope has been one of the great heroes of faith and one of the most useful graduates ever to go out from Maryville College.

SUMMER SCHEDULES ON THE CAMPUS

The College did not conduct a summer session this year, the wartime need for such a program having passed. The summer session was inaugurated as part of the wartime accelerated program in 1942. For three summers there were summer terms with the following attendance: there were 158 students in 1942; 110 in 1943; 40 in 1944. This would not indicate that the need and demand for a summer school are sufficient to justify the considerable expense and adjustments involved in conducting one. Students living in the Maryville and Knoxville area can and customarily do attend the University of Tennessee summer school. Interested students living in other areas find it possible and often desirable to attend summer schools near their homes. Therefore, it has been decided to return to the pre-war plan of conducting only Fall and Spring Semesters. If need and demand appear later the question will be reconsidered. There is some possibility that returning veterans may change the picture, although the Government does not require continuous attendance under its veterans' aid program.

The College's administrative offices are always busy all summer, with the staff members taking limited vacations on an arranged schedule. Elsewhere there is reference to some of the property improvements made by the maintenance staff.

In the summers of 1943 and 1944, the presence of the Army Air Forces College Training Program made it necessary to limit greatly the number of young people's and other church conferences which had been meeting on the campus in increasing numbers for some years. But in 1945, in spite of continued travel and food rationing, the following conferences were entertained: two young people's conferences of the Presbyterian Church in the USA; two young people's conferences of the Presbyterian Church in the US (Southern); a streamlined meeting of the Synod and Synodical Society of Mid-South; an organizing meeting of the Westminster Fellowship of the Synod. These occupied most of the time from Commencement to the first of July.

NEW CAMPUS CLOCK SYSTEM

Through the generosity of a friend of the College who wishes to remain anonymous, there has been purchased and installed a very fine master clock to control clocks and bells throughout the campus. The master clock is in the Personnel Office in Anderson Hall. There have been purchased also nine secondary clocks and ten six-inch bells which will be installed in various buildings as soon as wire necessary for the connections can be secured. The war shortages still apply to wire. The secondary clocks will be regulated automatically each hour so that the whole system will be in harmony.

This is a very valuable addition to the equipment of the College. There has been a clock which controlled certain gongs and which did faithful service but there has never been a real clock system. This new installation is an up-to-date one and will help greatly in the general life and work of the College.

MARYVILLE IN THE MOVIES

Some months ago the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education decided to make a moving picture and perhaps a series of pictures depicting the history, the character, and the service of the Presbyterian colleges. Mr. Hamilton MacFadden, an experienced moving picture director formerly connected with the Fox studios in Hollywood, was engaged to prepare the script and produce the pictures. A committee of Presbyterian college presidents, of which President Lloyd here was one, spent two days in Philadelphia late in the summer mapping out plans that might be followed. A professional moving picture crew was engaged to visit the campuses of five or six Presbyterian colleges. For two days late in September the Maryville campus was almost literally turned into a Hollywood studio. A considerable number of scenes were filmed here. Faculty members are shown as Pilgrim fathers, as members of the United States Supreme Court a century and quarter ago, and in other roles. Individual students and groups of students took part in the various scenes, some outdoors and some indoors.

The crew then went on to other colleges and at present the picture is in process of completion. This was to be done in New York and Hollywood. It is hoped that the film will be ready for its first showing soon after the first of the year. Because of the large part that was taken at Maryville there is some hope that the premier showing may be at Maryville. No individual college's name will appear but Maryville graduates who see the picture will certainly recognize the places and some of the people.

This is to be a 16 mm. sound black and white film running about twenty minutes and is intended not for the commercial theaters but for use by churches, colleges, schools, clubs, and the like. There will be enough copies made for rather wide distribution throughout the country and it is suggested Maryville alumni urge their churches and schools to request the film from the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia.

years on the Board. This is a record of official service not often equaled.

DEATHS

The Rev. Robert M. Stimson, D. D., died at Chattanooga, January 4, 1946, where he had been pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church for 18 years, having succeeded Dr. A. E. Elmore who was Chairman of the Board of Directors of Maryville College for a number of years.

Dr. Stimson was a Director of Maryville College for ten years and received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Maryville in 1928. He had been in ill health for some time and had asked for the dissolution of the pastoral ties between himself and the Second Church only a few weeks prior to his death.

He was buried in Chattanooga January 6, 1946. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Drs. Robert B. Hamilton, Pastor of the North Side Presbyterian Church, and Ralph Waldo Lloyd, President of Maryville College.

John H. Webb, Ex. '86, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. David Proffitt, at Maryville, October 7, 1945. For many years Mr. Webb had been a Director of Maryville College and showed an active interest in the students as well as the institution. He had been in business in Knoxville until about eight years ago, when he retired to his Maryville home, so well known to many students, on High Street. He had been a member of the New Providence Presbyterian Church for 65 years. He lacked a month of being 87 years old.

Mrs. R. B. Irwin (Etha Morton, Ex-'91) died September 30, 1945.

Ralph G. Levering, '95, died at his home, Glen Orchard, Ararat, Virginia, May 28, 1945, one week after he was present on the campus to celebrate with his Fifty-Year Classmates, May 19, 1945.

Clay Cunningham, '00, died at his home, Lakeland, Fla., January 17, 1946. He was a clerk of the County Court at Maryville for ten years, business manager for Lincoln Memorial University four years, and went to Florida in 1926. He established a furniture business in Lakeland and remained there until April, 1945, when he retired because of ill health. Burial was in Oak Hill Park, Lakeland.

Fred Hope, '06 (see article).

Bascom S. Jones, '06, died at St. Mary's Hospital, Knoxville, December 16, 1945. He was at home at 2111 Laurel Avenue, Knoxville. After graduation from Lane Theological Seminary he became a Presbyterian minister. Interment was in Highland Memorial Cemetery.

James P. Jewell, '10, died August 3, 1945, Corwin, Kansas. He was drowned while trying to save a parishioner.

Mrs. Nellie Johnston Beeler, '12, died at her home in Hamilton, Ohio, March 12, 1944.

David L. Quinn, Ex. '19, died in Knoxville, November 20, 1945. He had been a deputy collector of internal revenue.

Rollin Howard Marquis, '21, died suddenly, Friday night, October 26, 1945, at Elmira, New York.

J. T. Barrett, husband of Mary Helen Crowder, '28, died on March 10, 1943.

Mrs. Weldon Hina (Alice Woods, '30) died in November, 1945, at Fort Sanders Hospital, Knoxville. She left her husband (Ex. '33), two daughters, Marian and Janet, and a son, Edward. She was buried in Grand View Cemetery at Maryville.

Lt. James V. Chittick, Ex. '36, killed in action in Germany, August, 1944.

Gero Piper, Ex. '44, killed in action, December 24, 1944, in Luxembourg. From England he was assigned to clerical duty at 3rd Army Headquarters, but asked for transfer to combat service. With the 2nd Infantry he was in the battle of Lorraine until December 20 when his Division was sent to Luxembourg. Soon after their arrival in the winter bulge battle, he was killed.

Mrs. John A. McCall (Martha Ann Love) died on December 1, 1945. She was the mother of Newt, Earl, and Stella McCall, all of whom attended Maryville College, and she was a sister to Mrs. Samuel O'Grady Houston whose husband is Chairman of the Board of Directors of Maryville College.

HONORARY DEGREES

DR. KEEBLE

On Commencement Day the Directors met at eight-thirty and the Commencement Exercises came at ten-thirty. The speaker was President Charles C. Sherrod, of East Tennessee State College. There were fifty-six seniors present to receive degrees, a small wartime class. Thirteen members of the class had received degrees at the end of the first semester.

DR. CRESWELL

Honorary degrees were conferred upon Professor William Houston Keeble, of Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Virginia, a former student of Maryville College (Mrs. Keeble was Nell McSpadden, '97); and upon Rev. George J. Creswell, Pastor of the Second Methodist Church, Knoxville.

Six of the eight living members of the Class of 1895 were present and were awarded Fifty-Year Certificates.

It was a good Commencement and we hope it was the last wartime Commencement in our generation.

THIS ISSUE

As you see this issue is very late. We have anxiously striven over it, but our lack of help and many other factors have been too much for us this time. We thought that when the war was over we should be able to get most any of the former normal services and materials and be back on schedule, but in many ways the job has been more difficult than at any time during the war.

Since this issue had to be held open so long, we continued to add news items to keep it as up to date as possible. We shall stamp them all "DELAYED" to account for items later than the October dating.

Your office is not alone in this situation; many other institutional periodicals have been arriving late on our desk. This fact gives only the comfort of company.

The financial statement appears below. Note that last year is a record breaking year for alumni dues, but also for association expenditures. Our balance remains about the same. Also let us remember that the balance is an operating balance; it is not a reserve, but all that we have to run the Association until dues come in the spring. In spite of the above record of dues remittances, only slightly more than 18 percent of our living alumni are represented. The number constantly grows and there is yet hope for a strong and serviceable Association.

DEAN McCLELLAND RETURNS

DEAN McCLELLAND

Major, but all will be glad to welcome him back.

For more than a year he was attached to Marine Headquarters in Washington, in charge of important educational programs in the Signal Section of the Marine Corps. He was then sent to the Pacific and went into Okinawa on the first day of the invasion, was there through all the fighting and for a considerable period after Japan's surrender. He was then commander of a battalion at Camp Catlin, contiguous to Pearl Harbor. In October he landed in San Francisco and early in November reached Washington where his wife and two boys lived during his year in the Pacific war area.

Major McClelland was with the Marines on the Western Front in World War I. With his distinguished military service in two wars, his experience as a teacher, dean, and president of Pikeville College before coming to Maryville, and his years as Dean of Students at Maryville, he is an ideal man to deal with returning veterans and other young people in the postwar years.

He and his family are to live in the house beside the football field on the campus which was occupied for some fifteen years by the late Treasurer Fred L. Proffitt and his family, during the past two years by the Gates and the Fishers, and in earlier years by the Mathes, Bassetts, and Gillinghams.

RETIREMENT OF MISS JEWELL

MISS JEWELL

As this is written Dr. Frank D. McClelland, Dean of Students at Maryville College since 1937, is in Washington preparing to resume his duties at Maryville after being on leave of absence since March, 1943, serving as an officer in the U. S. Marines.

He returns as Major McClelland. There may be some uncertainty on the campus as to whether to call him Dean or Doctor or

Major, but all will be glad to welcome him back.

Miss Almira E. Jewell, Assistant Professor of History, requested and was granted retirement from active service on the Faculty at the end of the college year of 1944-1945. For a full year she had been on leave of absence because of illness. She had hoped to be able to return to teaching, but found this to be impossible although her health has improved.

She was one of the veteran members of the Faculty, having begun her service in the Preparatory Department in 1911, three years after receiving the B. A. degree from Maryville College. In 1923 she became a teacher in the College department. Her years of active work at Maryville were thirty-two, and for thirty-three, that is for a third of a century, her name appeared among the Faculty.

Miss Jewell is dividing her time between Maryville and Benton, Tennessee, and when in Maryville is seen in nice weather on the campus.

Her sterling Christian character, her loyalty to Maryville College ideals, her friendly attitude, and her steady devotion to her teaching responsibilities will be remembered with gratitude by former Maryville students everywhere.

THE FACULTY AND STAFF

The changes which continue to be caused by war developments in all areas of American life inevitably affect college faculties in various ways. The openings in the armed forces and government departments for faculty members, the absence of most civilian men students from college, and the closing of the Army Air Forces College Training Programs, during the past three or four years have added to the number of faculty and staff members leaving the College permanently or temporarily. And now that the return of men students has begun and the number of applications of women likewise has increased, the rebuilding of the faculty and staff to normal size is in progress.

President Lloyd has given the Alumni Magazine the following information. Dr. Frank D. McClelland, Dean of Students, and Mr. A. F. Pieper, of the Social Science faculty, were on Okinawa when the war ended, both as officers in the Marines. Major McClelland has returned to his work at the College (see report elsewhere). Lt. Pieper is back in this country but still in service. Rev. R. J. Dollenmayer, of the Bible and Religious Education faculty, has just been discharged from the Navy after his return from service as a Chaplain in the Pacific. Dr. Verton M. Queener has been in Washington with the Department of Agriculture since the summer of 1943, commuting occasionally to Maryville where Mrs. Queener continues to teach physical education at the college.

Mrs. Bonnie Hudson Brown, Assistant Professor of Biology, and John A. Davis, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, are on leaves of absence for the year, the former teaching in Maryville High School and the latter teaching and coaching in Central High School, Knoxville.

The following have joined the faculty and staff this fall: Miss Hazel L. Eddins, B. A. Maryville College 1939, of Birmingham, Alabama, Instructor in Physical Education and assistant in the women's dormitories; Commodore B. Fisher, B. A. Maryville College 1916, M. A. University of Kentucky, for the past twenty years in Iran, Associate Professor of History; Clinton Hancock Gillingham, M. A., D. D. Maryville College, Visiting Professor of Bible (see note elsewhere in this issue); William Curtis Hughes, of Mayfield, Kentucky, B. M. Ed. Murray State College, Instructor in Music, working in the fields of voice and organ; Miss Grace Weller, of Lexington, Kentucky, Mus. M. Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Instructor in Piano; Holmes Wilhelm, of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, M. A. University of North Carolina, Assistant Professor of German and Spanish; W. E. Wilson, of Selma, Alabama, M. A. University of Alabama, Assistant Professor of Social Science; Mrs. J. Willis Haythorn, of Maryville, and Mrs. T. Edward Henderson (Dorothy Buchanan, Maryville College '42), of Knoxville, Assistants in the Treasurer's Office. Mrs. Emma Lee Worley, of Maryville, Head of Carnegie Hall, which is a girls' dormitory this year, is rejoining the dormitory staff after an absence of eight years; she rendered similar service for the sixteen years preceding 1937. Miss Elizabeth H. Jackson, Assistant Professor of English since 1935, who gave full time last year in the Student-Help Office, is this year dividing her time between that office and teaching.

Dr. John A. Gates, Associate Professor of Bible and Religious Education, resigned at the end of the last college year to accept a position as Dean and Professor in his alma mater, Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa. He joined the Maryville faculty in January, 1940, and has rendered an excellent service.

Last spring Dr. Ralph S. Collins, who has been Associate Professor of German and French since 1935, entered Government service under the Department of State and is now at Marburg, Germany. He hopes his family will be permitted to join him there. Dr. Hill Shine, Associate Professor of English since 1932, left during the past summer to teach English in the army educational program in Europe and is now at Biarritz, France.

Miss Almira E. Jewell, who during the college year of 1944-1945 was on leave of absence, because of illness, retired from the faculty in May, 1945. An article concerning her service appears elsewhere in these pages.

Other losses since the last college year are: Mrs. Stella M. Evans, Assistant to the Head of Baldwin Hall, who died May 18, 1945; Miss Rachel L. Shobert, Instructor in Music, who resigned to accept a position at her alma mater, the College of Wooster; Mrs. Marie Parsons Cundiff, Assistant in the Alumni Office, who has gone with her daughter to accept a position in Honolulu where her son was already located; Miss Marjorie G. Orcutt, '40, Assistant in the Student-Help Office, who was married June 8 to Rev. George C. Tibbetts, '42; and Mrs. Margaret W. Williamson, Assistant in the Treasurer's office, who resigned because of health.

DR. GILLINGHAM

The College welcomed back to the campus and the classroom this year Rev. Dr. Clinton Hancock Gillingham, for more than twenty years head of the Department of Bible and for much of that time Registrar of the College. In 1929 he accepted the position of President of the Philadelphia School for Christian Workers (later Tennent College). When Tennent College became part of Princeton Theological Seminary, Dr. Gillingham was elected President Emeritus of Tennent and a year or so ago returned to Maryville and bought a home. When Dr. Gates left, Dr. Gillingham kindly agreed to serve as Visiting Professor of Bible this year.

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS

Painting was the principal improvement activity on the campus this past summer. Workmen of all kinds were and still are exceedingly scarce and expensive, but the College was fortunate enough to get a really large amount of painting done. The Dining Hall was painted throughout, a large job. Two thirds of Baldwin and all of Memorial Hall rooms were painted. About 75 rooms in Pearsons and 80 in Carnegie had walls or floors or both painted. A large proportion of furniture in Pearsons and Baldwin was refinished. Ever since the Army left, the Carnegie furniture has been undergoing repair and refinishing in our shop, partly because of hard wear by the Army, but chiefly because it needed it anyway. The first and second halls of Bartlett were plastered and the halls, reading and game rooms, and auditorium were painted.

The maintenance department under Mr. Black and "Brownie" Brown have done a heroic job keeping the grounds and buildings in shape, in view of scarcity of labor and materials. All in all the plant is in good condition, some parts of it even in better condition than ever before. The labor and materials shortage has not been relieved very much in this area as yet.

THE TWENTY-FIVE YEAR HONOR ROLL

There are three members of the Faculty and Staff who during the past year completed twenty-five years of active service at Maryville College. Their names are therefore added to those on the "Twenty-Five Year Honor Roll." Including them, there are now fourteen members of the Faculty and Staff whose period of service is twenty-five years or more. The three who have just joined the list are as follows:

DR. ORR

the Faculty in January, 1920, he was returning to his Alma Mater where he had been a student from 1908 to 1912. In 1915 he completed his theological course at Lane Seminary, Cincinnati, and then served as a pastor for five years. In 1924 while on the Maryville Faculty, he received the M. A. degree from the University of Tennessee and in 1926 the honorary D.D. degree from Maryville College. During parts of two years he pursued graduate work at Northwestern University. Dr. Orr is recognized as one of the most loyal and inspiring teachers in the College's long history, and the influence of his life and work is great.

MRS. McMURRAY

Political and Social Science. Dr. McMurray served until his untimely death in 1938. Mrs. McMurray, as Head of the Home Economics Department, began to develop a plan of making and marketing clothing articles, both for laboratory and student-aid purposes.

Dr. Horace E. Orr, Professor of Religion and Philosophy, and Chairman of the Division of Bible, Philosophy, and Education, completed twenty-five years of service on the Maryville College Faculty at the middle of the last collegiate year. He will be up to the twenty-six-year mark when the second semester of the present year opens. When he joined

Mrs. James H. McMurray, Manager of the College Maid Shop, came to the Maryville Faculty in September, 1920, from Oberlin College where she had served as teacher and dietitian for two years. At Maryville she became Head of the Home Economics Department and her husband, Dr. James H. McMurray, Professor of

By 1927 the College Maid Shop had grown to such proportions that she gave up her teaching to devote her full time to the Shop. In time she made it one of the most impressive work projects for students to be found anywhere. For the past five years the Shop has given practically all its time to making uniforms for Navy nurses. Mrs. McMurray is the creator and genius back of the Shop and its fascinating story.

MR. McCURRY

the M. S. degree (in Education) at the University of Tennessee in 1937 while on full duty. "Mr. Mac," as he is universally called among Maryville College people, admittedly has one of the hard jobs in the College; but he has the respect and affection of eight generations of students, and he is indiscourageably loyal to those he calls "Maryville College men."

Mr. E. E. McCurry became Proctor of Carnegie Hall in the fall of 1920 and also Supervisor of Men's Residence in 1936. He had some time before been a student in the Preparatory Department and then the College for a number of years and a student assistant in the dormitory. He completed his work for the B. A. degree at Maryville and for

Here and There

1882

Roy S. Hanna was not able to attend Homecoming this fall, but he was able to write his approval of the program and his regrets that he could not come.

1886

William Walter Hastings reports that he is supply minister in a New Hampshire Congregational Church and runs a farm garden in the summer time and is a substitute teacher in the Hartford and West Hartford (Conn.) Junior High Schools in the winter. He wishes that his class mates would meet him for their 60th anniversary at Commencement (May 22).

1892

William D. Malcolm visited the campus in November during a short stop with his sister, Mrs. Enola Malcolm Miles, Ex. '92. He is 82 years young. He entered Maryville College at 19, and could neither read nor write. He received the B. D. degree from McCormick Seminary in 1895 and the D. D. degree from Lincoln Memorial University in 1915. After serving the church for 43 years he retired to an active life of gardening and poultry raising. He is leaving his home in Banner Elk, N. C., for an extended stay with his daughter in Cincinnati.

FIFTY YEAR CLASS

A significant feature of the 1945 Commencement was the presence of six of the eight living members of the Class of 1895. There were originally eleven in the class. The spokesman for the class at the Alumni Dinner was Mr. Ralph G. Levering. The members present and their wives appear in the pictures. Later sad news came that Mr. Levering had died of a heart attack one week after his return home.

1893

Thomas Judson Miles and his wife, Enola Malcolm, Ex. '92, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, August 21, 1945. Many of their friends called or sent flowers and all the children (all graduates of Maryville College) were present: Mary, Emma, Malcolm, Helen, and Lois.

1894

Writing under the pen name of Hart E. Richelson, Stella, Eakin, last spring, won two prizes in the fourth international literary competition for the blind of all faiths, conducted by the Jewish Braille Institute of America: 2nd prize in the prose contest with her essay, "Nevertheless I Live Happily," and 3rd prize in the poetry section for her poem "To Helen Keller."

From Samuel W. Boardman, Jr., there often come copies of his latest verse. The last one is entitled the "Bill of Rights" and is a versification of the rights drawn from the Declaration of Independence, the United States Constitution, and its amendments. We wish our periodical were large enough and our staff big enough to share with our readers the interesting productions which our graduates send in to the office.

FOURTEEN

1895

Tobias Magana, after 46 years' medical practice at Paraiso on the Mexican Bay of Campeche has retired to his permanent home in Dubuque, 529 Fenlon Place. Dr. Tobias came to the United States when he was 13 years of age. After completing his work at Maryville, he took his medical training at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, St. Louis. He was seven times mayor of his town and once Governor of Tobasco (1920). In 1899 he was married to Minnie Roeder who bore six daughters for him. He is now seventy-one.

1896

The Horsham Times, Australia, March 23, 1945, carried a two column account of the tributes of the citizens of Horsham, to the excellent work done by T. Worsley Maguire as the supply pastor of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church there. The occasion was the returning of the regular pastor and the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Maguire. The mayor and other representative dignitaries paid him high tribute in the farewell eulogy. Mr. Maguire was presented with a new and well filled wallet. Their joy was heightened by the news that their son, Captain Winston Maguire, was on his way home. In a recent letter from Mr. Maguire he shares with us an experience with Kin Takahashi when the two were alone on the campus in the summer that the foundations of Bartlett were being laid and Kin came down with typhoid fever. It was striking that an Australian who had so recently suffered so much at the hands of the Japanese would remember this Japanese friend so warmly.

SECOND SEMESTER ENROLMENT

Since current difficulties connected with materials and labor have delayed the actual printing of this Magazine until after the opening of the second semester, the following news note is being inserted:

To date there are 55 returned veterans in college, all but three of them having enrolled at the opening of the second semester. Of these, nineteen are married and seven of them with their wives are living in light housekeeping apartments on the ground floor of Carnegie Hall. Two of these seven have children.

At the end of the first semester 10 seniors completed their graduation requirements and 29 other students left college, making a loss of 8 men and 31 women. At the opening of the second semester 57 men and 18 women entered college, making a net gain of 49 men, a net loss of 13 women, and a total net gain of 35.

THE SAMUEL TYNDALE WILSON FOUNDATION

The response of the Alumni to the Samuel Tynedale Wilson Memorial Foundation for the endowment of a Chair of English in Dr. Wilson's name has not been as rapid or as large as was hoped and expected. The first announcement of the fund was made by a letter and bulletin sent out in April. It was the original hope that by the 1945 Commencement there might be received in pledges and gifts a total of $25,000. It soon became apparent that the matter had been launched too late to make this practicable but it is now ten months since the original announcement and the results still have not come very near to that first goal.

The report as this is written is:

Number of pledges and gifts .....	277
Percentage of living alumni responding.....	9%
Amount of money pledged or given.....	$8,431.80

This is one of the most worthy projects which has been started and it is sincerely hoped Alumni who have not made pledges or gifts will place this on their consciences and in their budgets. Please send pledges and gifts to the Alumni Office or the President's Office.
